A New and Updated Seminar Presented by John Buddie, Tartanside Collies

Sponsored by: HUNTERDON HILLS COLLIE CLUB

Date: Sunday, September 24, 2006

Price: Reservations are limited to the first 35 participants with dogs – $75 and 15 participants without dogs for $50. Deadline for reservations is September 1.

Location: Top Dog Obedience School at Flanders New Jersey

If you want to improve your presentation of your collie, this seminar will be just what you are looking for! It is geared to educate and enlighten all participants and to make them more competitive in the ring.

The Seminar will be a full day event divided into three phases:

“What it takes to be competitive” – A study of the Collie Standard and its implications in the show ring. John will share his philosophy and insights into the areas of the Standard, which create those individuals which come closest to the ideal. A dynamic new look into the elements that make parts of the Standard difficult to understand. A look into the subtleties and nuances which make some dogs stand out.

“Gaining Momentum” – A look at the concentration, expectation and preparation for creating the maximum potential of your show puppies. This segment will deal with the training aspect from young puppies to adults. You will observe:

- . The critical stages – the importance of WHEN to train puppies
- . Learning styles – HOW a puppy learns best, and how to use this information to create a supreme showman
- . Enhancing performance – the “little things” that mean a lot

“Handling to Win” – this final segment will be one in which everyone will participate with a dog. A short demonstration will be followed by one on one coaching to help orchestrate better balance between dog and handler. Lessons will combine training the handler and the dog – all geared towards making the two of you an unbeatable team! Learn the psychology of the show ring, the art of making your dog stand out and lessons on becoming a strong, competent handler.
